June 2014

Dear readers...

26

Bea Roberts' easy cotton top will knit up quickly if the sun shines out of the blue

51

In the Stash Box this month Bea Roberts used an oddment of yarn to make this sparkly headband shimmer

First of all, I'd like to thank everyone who supported the Nottingham Show this year. The centre was finished and the staff looked after us very well, so it was a fabulous day with lots of very positive and rewarding comments from exhibitors and visitors alike. Alan Hunt popped in for a short while to chat to old friends and help out a little and it was good to see him looking so well. I've checked the calendar and in 2015, Easter Sunday is 5th April. Mothering Sunday is 15th March, so I guess we can look at Sunday 12th April 2015 for next year's Nottingham Show.

Still on the subject of shows and as we go to press, Susan Burns has asked me to let you know that there's to be a knitting event on Sunday 8th June. It's to be held at High House, Purfleet in Essex and the day will run from 11.00 am to 4.00 pm. The idea is to simply go along and knit. Weather permitting they'll be using the gardens, so you need to take a folding chair or blanket to sit on. If it's wet, they'll have the use of a barn and for further details call Susan on 07766-987314 or email susanaburns@hotmail.com

There's also a slight last-minute hiccup with Scotland's Knitting Only Show on Saturday 17th May 2014. It seems that some posters were printed with an incorrect postcode for the venue. Holders of advance tickets have the correct information, but if you're thinking of turning up on the day and buying a ticket on the door, please make sure you put the following postcode in your Sat Nav. The show will be held at Roths Halls, Roth's Square, Glenrothes, Fife KY7 5NX. Further details are on the website at www.scottishmachineknitters.org.uk

From time to time readers comment about the magazine and if they're feeling 'grumpy' they may well say to me, "well, I've told you what I think but I know you won't do anything about it". This is actually far from the truth. Your constructive criticism is always welcome, so when one of our readers had a serious comment to make about Style File, Sally-Ann and I decided it was time for a change. You can read the letter in Dear Anne this month and see our bright, new look on Pages 14 and 15. I hope our 'younger' readers will like it and enjoy combining their machine knitting with this season's look.

Finally I've an item of lost property from Nottingham, so if you left something behind please get in touch and I may be able to reunite you with it.

Woolfest

Now in its tenth year and with 150 stall holders, Woolfest takes place on 27th and 28th June. It celebrates creativity in natural fibres with designers and makers from across the UK. Two local venues will offer practical workshops in a range of craft skills. Woolfest 2014 takes over Mitchell's Lakeland Livestock Centre in Cockermouth for two days. Entry is £8 per day and directions and details can be found at www.woolfest.co.uk or by calling The Wool Clip at Caldbeck on 01697-478707 during shop hours.

DIY

Here's a book for anyone wanting to try some clever and creative design, but don't know how. As more of us choose to renovate our homes rather than move, there couldn't be a better time for a concise and informative self-help manual on interior design. Annabel Buckley has written the book and she includes all we need to know to transform our home. The hardback ISBN is 978-0-95765-850-9 and it costs around £24.99.

Sew crafty

After being inspired by the BBC's The Great British Sewing Bee, we've been heading for our sewing baskets to get crafty. Cath Kidston tells us sales have soared since the show aired its second series, with haberdashery accessories increasing by 24% in the first week of the show going live and fabric sales up by 35%.

The 'home of modern vintage' is encouraged that there's a popular revival in traditional skills and crafts. Since the start of the show's second series, Cath Kidston has sold:-

- Enough metres of printed ribbon to wrap the Blackpool Tower nine times
- Enough fabric to stretch from the brand's flagship store at 180 Piccadilly to its West London store in Portobello
- Enough buttons to button-up over 900 suits of Sewing Bee's Patrick Grant.

From start to finish

Create an art textile or something beautiful to wear on a short course at West Dean. Suitable for all abilities, create a unique decorative silk bag from start to finish then use silk paints, layering and embroidery to decorate it. Making silk bags with bespoke metal frames (£345) is from 5th to 8th June with Emily Jo Gibbs. Handmade tailored lampshades (£314) with Ruth de Fraga Gomes is from 21st to 24th July and suitable for all. Sponsored by the UK Hand Knitting Association, this annual competition gets underway with £1000-worth of prizes. Liz Holness (GMK) and I were very disappointed to see that no mention is made of machine knitting. We've both e-mailed asking why it isn't included and, as we go to press, there's been no reply! Successful year

Dear Anne

Following on from my recent illness, I'd like to pass on my grateful thanks to members of Keynsham MKC for their cards, flowers and get well wishes. I've been very touched by their kindness. We also held our AGM in March. Following a very successful advertising campaign we recruited six new members and we're still receiving enquiries from other interested people. We've had several visiting speakers who've enriched our knowledge and experiences as well as generating much enthusiasm and confidence to try new techniques. Some members have made cardigans and blankets for the prem baby unit and bed socks, shawls and blankets for the elderly patients at The Royal United Hospital in Bath. Members also made vests for the 'Fish and Chip' babies in Africa. At the last count we'd over 50 vests with still more coming in. We'd some very interesting and informative 'show and tell' sessions. Members admired some lovely examples of work and we shared lots of tips, techniques and ideas.

We'd a lovely Christmas party and a good response to the Christmas theme competition. It was won by Sue Moore, who'd knitted a Christmas cake and finished it beautifully. We also agreed the programme for our coming year.

9th June Colour selection and co-ordination.

14th July Show and tell.

11th August Using the colour changer plus cut and sew Fair Isle.

8th September Show and tell.

12th October Crochet techniques and edgings.

10th November Intarsia.

8th December Show and tell, then preparing for the Christmas challenge!

12th January Christmas party and group competition judging.

9th February Scarves and gloves.

I'd like to pass on my grateful thanks to everyone for everything they've done to make this year such a success, but single out Bob Milsom, husband of club member Gill Milsom. Bob has kindly produced, without charge, a beautifully illustrated programme leaflet for the club along with a lovely information leaflet which he's laminated for local advertising and distribution. After three month's absence due to illness, I'm looking forward to seeing everyone again and hope to have completed a delayed Christmas present for my husband to show them! Many thanks for all your hard work, Anne and we look forward to receiving the next edition of MKM. Best wishes, Pat Hames

Three to please

We're really pleased to hear that Beryl Jarvis has finished filming another DVD and this time it's all about buttonholes. We know that many experienced knitters avoid buttonholes, but now we can watch them being made and it's so much easier than reading instructions. On her DVD, Beryl works through the buttonholes described on several of her Info Sheets including 1.7 Single bed buttonhole as well as 1.8 Vertical buttonhole on the ribber and 2.5 Shirt-type opening with machine finished buttonhole. She also demonstrates 1.12 Binding off ribber fabrics. With the DVD, we can see how these are knitted and watch the same technique over and over again if we need to. Buttonholes DVD costs £15 plus £1.50 towards post and packing. Cheques should be made payable to Beryl Jarvis and here are her contact details. Beryl Jarvis, 90 Asfordby Road, Melton Mowbray, LE13 0HR. Tel 01664-850418 Email beryl.jarvis@ntlworld.com

FOR ALL YOUR MACHINE KNITTING NEEDS

Dear Anne

This month we've lots to tell and share. If you've a favourite suggestion, a story to tell or a point to make then share it with us by writing to Anne at the usual address on page 3 or email mail@machineknittingmonthly.net

Cover note

Hi Anne

I've just finished another jumper knitted in Sirdar Crofter DK, Fair Isle effect. The pattern was on the cover of the March 2014 issue of MKM, I knitted on my Brother KH840 and I'm very pleased with the result. I ordered the yarn from the UK and it took a little while to get here to Australia, but it was well worth it. Little did I know that this yarn is available here in Tasmania, so next time I'll source yarn here first.

I might add that I rewound the yarn and waxed it before using. Until next time, Sally Doyle
A visitor who came to Machine Knitting LIVE! at Bournemouth told me she'd just finished her third sweater using the same pattern and yarn, so it really is a winner. Anne Baker has also designed a child's sweater in the same yarn and we'll feature it in a future issue. Ed the comments can feel, not sure what the word is, maybe it's condescending? The tone of these pages is one thing that leads me to conclude that, at 32, I am among your younger readers - but I don't expect I'm alone in my generation. Knitting is enjoying something of a revival and I think this has potential to extend to machine knitting as well as hand knitting. A number of my friends, family and colleagues are very excited by my knitting machine and would love to have space for one themselves. My younger sisters came for a weekend a little while ago and we had a fun time while they all made a cushion cover on it. Thank you for your work with the magazine and I look forward to continuing to receive it through to July 2015 and no doubt beyond! Thanks and kind regards, Sophie Hayles

Hi Sophie, I've always said that constructive criticism is extremely helpful and your comments are much appreciated so I do hope you enjoy Sally-Ann's new look. These two designs from Sally Williams might also appeal and they're coming soon in the magazine. Ed

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Here's a really interesting letter from one of our readers, which I passed onto Sally-Ann. It's given both of us food for thought and inspired a slight change of direction. We've brightened up her feature and hope it's more appealing for Sophie and our younger readers. I'm including Sophie's letter in full and you can see Sally-Ann's new look on Page 14. Ed

Hi Anne

I do enjoy getting the magazine each month. I get particular pleasure from Joan Lafferty's Look at Life and patterns suitable for Brother standard gauge machines, especially the more contemporary styles. I bought my machine on eBay about 18 months ago and have enjoyed teaching myself how to use it. Joan Lafferty's article about how to clean and service a machine arrived in a timely manner and mine has run more smoothly ever since.

My most adventurous garment to date is a bolero. I used the pattern in the magazine (can't remember which issue) and adjusted it to make it longer in the body and sleeves. I'm just under six feet tall, so being able to make clothes myself is advantageous. My next project will be a man's zip-up cardigan, which I intend to base on Carl Boyd's pattern but without the cable detail. I'll try to knit it in Half Fisherman's rib to give it a more modern feel, as it's for a trendy friend! I also enjoy articles on up and coming new designers using knitting creatively. Something I would like to see in the magazine, if you have the opportunity, is a pattern for a snug fitting 'hoodie'. An option to do it with and without a zip up the front would be even better!

You asked for feedback on what we don't like as well as what we do and I don't tend to enjoy Sally-Ann Carroll's pages so much. It's mostly because of the assumptions she makes about her readers all being of the older generation and what they would tend to wear, or not wear. The pictures and ideas of trends can be interesting, but

STROKE OF GENIUS

Dear Anne

What a wonderful article by Bill King on Classic Lines (March 2014, Pages 58 and 59). The samples are breathtakingly beautiful and my question therefore is, "are there any patterns by him to permit a 'numpty' like me to attain this level"? Also, is it possible to purchase them? Yours in anticipation of getting somewhere near these heights, Greta Hayward

Hi Greta, I hope you're not too disappointed to know that Bill's everyday work leaves him no time to write or publish patterns. We must therefore continue to enjoy his gems of genius each month in the magazine. Ed

18-STITCH PUNCHCARDS

Dear Anne

I would like to ask on your Dear Anne page if anyone has any information on 18-stitch punchcards or any copies for my Knitmaster HK-160 machine. I've tried to get some, but no-one seems to have any. I hope you can help and I love the magazine, I've had it for over 25 years. Many thanks Anne, Joan Griffiths

Hi Joan, I hope someone will get in touch but if you've any blank cards you can always use part of the patterns for 12 or 24-stitch cards. Just find a pattern that's 3 or 6 stitches wide and repeat it 6 or 3 times across your card. In the meantime, if you can help then contact me and I'll pass on Joan's details. Ed

Heart to heart

Dear Anne

I love making baby clothes with transfer lace patterns but mostly use the stitch markers on the needle bed as a guide so that each pattern is divisible by 10, not the usual 12 or 24. This works fine, but I wanted to make a more complicated flower design. Not being great at drawing, it took me some time to design a card with holes only on alternate rows. Using the single motif cam, needles were selected on alternate rows and then stitches moved by hand to the adjacent needle either to left or right, using the chart as a guide (/ = move stitch to the right, \ = move stitch to left). The heart motif is one I have often used for baby clothes and works best either across the row or just as a single heart. I have also made a pair of gloves by placing a bead on each selected needle instead of making a hole. Please keep up the good work as your magazine is great for both patterns and inspiration. Yours sincerely, Christine Cooper

Back to basics

Joan Lafferty has always said that learning to use a knitting machine is like learning to drive a car; you go along swimmingly for a while then you seem to encounter all the snags!

We all know that learning to use a knitting machine isn't really like driving a car. For example, you're unlikely to knock someone down with a knitting machine, unless you hit them over the head with it! On the other hand different machines, cars or knitting machines have various buttons and levers which do the same job but in a different fashion. I well remember having a car made in France which had the steering wheel moved to the right, but the brake and traffic indicator were not moved to the opposite side to match. I had to go very carefully for a few days to get used to the difference.

This sort of change was brought home to me recently because my all-singing, all-dancing KH-950i machine went wrong! While I was waiting for the engineer to call, I had to bring my 'old faithful' KH-836 machine out of retirement. I've used this machine a lot in the past, but I found I'd forgotten certain little quirks. For example, there's only one trip lever for the row counter and the Knit Leader and on the 950i there are two. So, when knitting on the left of the 836 machine, it's necessary to take the carriage well over to the right in order to 'trip' the row counter. I forgot this the first time I used it and, as a consequence, had no record of the number of rows I'd knitted!

CANCELLATION CLAUSE

Another point I'd also forgotten was the difference in operation of the N/L lever. This selects needles for slip, tuck, Fair Isle and so on. When it's cancelled on the 950i, all the buttons go back to normal. However, on the 836 we have to cancel the carriage buttons separately. So, when I'd finished a little Fair Isle knitting on the 836, I turned off the N/L lever. I removed the second yarn from the feeder, but omitted the vital step of cancelling the Fair Isle button in the middle. Some needles were in upper working position so, of course, the stitches dropped off when I took the carriage across. This is one of the things that beginners forget, too! I can't remember the number of times a student has said to me, "why did all the stitches fall off?" and often this is the answer (see Fig. 1).

Fig. 1 Brother N/H and N/L levers

“You're unlikely to knock someone down with a knitting machine, unless you hit them over the head with it!”

HOLD ON

I was reminded of it recently when I was giving a little help to a fairly inexperienced knitter. She knew from painful experience that stitches on needles in upper working position will fall off in these circumstances. So, she was being extra cautious and giving herself a lot of extra work. I was demonstrating how to 'hold' shoulder stitches, rather than cast off in steps.

For anyone who's not familiar with this technique, let's suppose that you're told in the pattern to cast off six stitches at the beginning of each row for shoulder shaping. Instead of casting off, you set the machine to 'hold' and push out five needles on the opposite end to the carriage. Take the carriage across and push out one needle on the carriage side and five needles on the opposite side. Continue in this way until all the shoulder stitches are 'held' rather than cast off (see Fig. 2). You'll see there are two stitches on every sixth needle, so you need to work one row across these stitches for the next operation. However, should you have the middle neck needles still in holding position, you can't simply cancel the 'hold' button - so here's what to do.

Fig. 3 Brother cast-on comb

Fig. 4 Nylon cord cast on

PUSH 'N' PULL

Using the straight edge ruler, push the shoulder stitches very gently into upper working position. This is halfway between working position and holding position so the tips of the latches are just in line with the gate pegs. Push them back too far and the stitches will indeed drop off, push them back not far enough and the carriage will take them back to 'hold'. My friend knew only too well the perils of pushing needles back too far, so had been putting them back to working position using the transfer tool. A little practice will show just the right position, which saves lots of work with the transfer tool.

An even more recent convert to machine knitting was also giving herself too much work. This lady is a keen hand knitter, which is often a bit of a drawback. To be honest, hand knitters try to translate their knowledge to the machine, forgetting that this is quite another discipline, even if the end result looks the same. She'd been told to cast on with waste yarn (not a technique favoured by hand knitters!) but had not been shown how to use the nylon cord, or the 'hook' cast-on comb that comes with Brother machines (see Fig. 3). She'd been using 'e-wrap' to cast on with waste yarn, which is quite unnecessary as there's no need for a firm edge on yarn that's going to be removed. With the nylon cord method, you thread up the waste yarn, take the carriage across, which results in loops in the needle hooks. The nylon cord is then taken round the gate peg nearest to the first needle in work, across the front of the carriage in the 'valley' between gate pegs and needles and brought forward round the gate peg next to the last stitch in work (see Fig. 4).

This cord needs to be held very tightly and the carriage must be taken across very slowly for the first row. No more than four rows should be knitted with the nylon cord in place, or it will catch round the gate pegs. Finally, the cord is removed and another few rows knitted in waste yarn.

Using the cast-on comb with hooks, the older instruction books had a method of hooking this comb on the gate pegs and there is no need to do this (see Fig. 3). In fact, the later models don't mention it. Instead, take the yarn across for one row as before and then, holding the comb with the hooks facing away from you, 'scrape' the hooks outwards and downwards between the gate pegs until the hooks catch in the yarn. This is a good way of casting on with an open edge, because weights can be placed on the comb. Lace, in particular, needs a lot of weight. Old hands will know all this, but from my chat with two newish knitters there are obviously beginners still appearing on the machine knitting scene.

FORGET IT!

I found myself somewhat like a beginner using the 836 machine. As I've said, hand knitters have to 'forget' some practises and so did I - not from my hand knitting days, but from using a more sophisticated machine! I did one silly thing in particular. Using the 950i, I'd made a pretty little baby coat in tuck, using four rows of peach and four of white. A lady bought this from my stall and then rang me a couple of days later to say that her daughter had just given birth to a baby boy, so she wanted another one in blue! I can't think that a peach and white cardigan would confuse the baby, but it might (presumably) fox the neighbours into thinking the child was a girl!

By now, I couldn't use the built-in patterns in the 950i, so decided I must punch a card for the 836 - which I did, copying exactly the graph in the back of Stitchworld. For a few minutes I couldn't think why the yarn bubbled up and didn't 'tuck'. Then it dawned on me that on the more basic machines, the card needs to be punched in reverse so holes for the background are punched, but the ones that tuck are the blank section. I kicked myself for not remembering this when I punched the card, but I think I was a bit upset at that time because my lovely electronic machine was damaged.

"Is it like a car?" I asked myself once again. When cars get to a certain age, everything seems to go wrong - one thing after another. Should I be considering a new machine? Not if I can help it! I hope there's some life left in the old dog yet! I've not punched another tuck card, because the engineer has fixed the fault. However, I've an idea that my first card won't be wasted, I think it will be a nice little flower pattern, when I've time to try it out!

CHANGING SEASONS

So what else is new? Not a lot! I find less knitting is done in the summer

Starting over

Over the years Joan Lafferty has shared lots of ideas, hints and tips with us and been a great help to machine knitters. Many of you have asked us to re-print some of her earlier articles and here's one that's just as relevant today as it was when she wrote it.

not only by me, but also by many knitters - and it's not just the keen gardeners. Somehow the hot weather (when we get any) doesn't lend itself to thinking about winter sweaters. However, in preparation for my two lessons for friends who are beginners, I decided I really shouldn't have the nylon cord kicking about on the table beside the 836 machine.

I'm not keen on wrapping it round 'something', because I find the 'something' gets itself mislaid. Having used the cord and pulled it out of the work, I seldom wind it up again at once. Have you got the idea that I'm terribly untidy? You're right! Using my 950i machine I've got a place for the nylon cord - because I'm not that untidy! However, this was the 836, in a new 'temporary home' as the machine must be put away if I need the room for overnight visitors. Reaching into my memory, I remembered I'd put a row of hooks in the side of the machine table, many years ago. I fixed just one on the 836 table and very carefully folded my nylon cord and hung it there. After all, I must appear to be a bit organised in front of friends!

When it came to demonstrating, you've guessed it, there was a knot in the cord! I'm convinced that some malevolent spirit ties these knots when we're not looking! This used to happen regularly when I was teaching at night school and in several different districts. So, I invented a 'person' called George. (It would never be a woman! Why do you think I called he who used to follow me from place to place 'malevolent'? This used to amuse the class, unless one happened to be married to a gent called George!

Anyway, as you can imagine when I came to demonstrate the use of the cord to my friend... there was a knot in it, in spite of my care in hanging it up! However, in one way I suppose it was a bonus, since I could press home the need to undo any knot that appears before it's used, rather than after. If you don't do it, it can be disastrous since the knot will certainly have tightened in pulling it out from the work. So, to all the George's who might be reading this, my apologies for using your name - but do let me know if you find out the right name of this mythical person! ■

Fisherman's TWIST

This month Bill King gives us a glimpse of his everyday work and knits some fascinating samples

In my everyday work I spend a lot of time trying to come up with different knitted structures. They must not only be relevant to the current trends but also suitable for production on very basic machines. Half Fisherman's Rib is the basis of many of these structures. It involves a simple tuck stitch in one direction across the whole of one bed and no needle selection is necessary. The other bed knits in both directions to produce the bumpy, more textured side. There's therefore no reason why we can't have areas of plain single bed fabric in between the ribbed areas. It further follows that these areas of single bed knitting can be manipulated with hand transfer techniques. To illustrate the idea, I tried a few versions of Half Fisherman's Rib with different cable stitches. You could also try hand transfer lace, ladder lace or just simply have some needles out of work.

CREAM SWATCH

Starting with a 1x1 rib, it's easier to transfer to odd numbers of stitches for the cables. I've worked nine-needle plaits crossing the three centre stitches with three to the left, then the three centre stitches with three to the right. As already described, the cables are worked on the bed that knits on every row. The other bed knits in one direction and tucks in the other. There are four rows between each cable, but with the ‘pull-up’ characteristic of tuck stitch, probably six rows would look better and be quicker.

GREEN SWATCH

With a large cable in the centre and working outwards, there’s a section of 1x1. After a four-needle cable, there’s an area of 2x1 before going back to a 1x1 arrangement to the selvedge. The large centre cable is worked over eleven needles. To make this easier it’s worked in two lots, so the first six stitches are crossed with three stitches and we knit two rows. We then cross the same six stitches with the remaining two stitches. It’s only fair to tell you that this is only possible if you knit what’s known as a relief course. The row immediately prior to crossing the stitches is knitted by bringing empty needles on the bed opposite the cables into work to ‘grab’ some extra yarn, which you then release. It makes the knitting looser and, as a result, it becomes possible to cross a larger number of stitches. I used three needles, but you may need to use more or a smaller number.

RED SWATCH

Alternating groups of eleven needles are knitted either as single bed with

Points to note

- Use half pitch throughout
- The bed which has the cables on needs to be at a normal single bed tension, but the opposite bed can be tighter
- Bring needles to holding position after crossing stitches and set the carriage to knit them back the same cable as the last swatch, or in Fisherman’s Rib. * Knit ten rows, work the cable (this takes two rows) and then knit another ten rows. Finally, transfer all stitches to the back bed before moving the single bed areas to 1x1 and repeat from *.

ORANGE SWATCH

Here’s one for the hand transfer masochists among you - and there are more than you would imagine! It’s the same idea as the red swatch where alternating areas of 21 stitches are worked either in Half Fisherman’s Rib or Trellis Cable. Three stitches are crossed with three stitches and you’ll need to knit a relief course before trying to cross these stitches. ■

Rugby is a perennial favourite and Jo Newton's new pictures will fit the bill for any sports enthusiast

These rugby player pictures were first designed as motifs to be placed singly, with appropriate spacing, on a jumper. However for those who wish to make repeating borders or all-over patterns I've added the dots which cut down the length of the float threads. These should be omitted for single motifs. Swiss darn the ball and take the opportunity to catch any long floats behind it! ■

Jo writes, "Many knitters nowadays are computer literate, but if not, there's very likely to be someone in the family with access to the Internet who is. I'm sure they'd be delighted to show how clever they are and demonstrate their equipment. Why not ask them to help you have a go at surfing the web to have a look at some of the sites dedicated to machine knitting, most of which have links pages, which can send you on a long journey to many different interesting addresses. You could always start with mine, which you will find at www.jonewton.co.uk and which has recently been completely revamped. (Don't forget, there's also the MKM website at www.machineknittingmonthly.net)

You'll find that several designers offer their patterns as PDFs and although the initials stand for Portable Document Format, I prefer to think of it as Printout Design Favourites! These can sometimes be downloaded straight away, or received as e-mail attachments by contacting the designer. Imagine a knitter in New Zealand or the USA for example who wants one of my individual design sheets or booklets immediately. All they have to do is e-mail me with the request, I quote the price, which doesn't need to include horrendous postal charges and send a PayPal invoice. They pay me through PayPal, which enables me to accept credit cards if they don't have their own PayPal account and PayPal sorts out the currency conversion. I assemble and attach the designs and the whole transaction is done in a few hours. The patterns can be saved either to be printed out immediately or as and when they're needed. I used to think that a fax machine was as near magic as we could get, but PDFs really beat all. By the way, to read PDF files it's necessary to have the Adobe Acrobat program, which is on most computers but can be downloaded FREE from www.adobe.com

Happy to help

Do remember that Jo is always pleased to work on special projects for MKM readers and if it is obviously a design that will appeal to others and be suitable for publication it may even be free of charge. So if you've a new idea for her, please get in touch. Don't forget that she'll also put any of her patterns on disk for Brother FB100. DesignaKnit files can be sent as e-mail attachments and she now offers PDF files. Although she does not now attend shows, all her pattern sheets and booklets are still available by (rapid response!) mail order and she loves to talk on the phone, or correspond by e-mail with fellow knitters. You can write to us at the usual address or get in touch with Jo direct and here are her contact details. Jo Newton, Barrowby Old Hall, Grantham, Lincolnshire NG32 1BX.

E6000 Maintenance

Alice Wilmshurst reminds us about things we need to remember, but are apt to forget over the years

If the machine hasn't been used for years, you really should start from scratch by deep cleaning, oiling and putting the machine back together again. "I can't make myself do this today, I'm just too impatient to start." How often have I heard these words - so often that I usually say, "try and knit and see how the machine responds". You may have to put aside your eagerness and start cleaning it.

BASIC CLEANING

Simple cleaning should be done between sessions of knitting and certainly after ten hours at the machine.

Needles Remove both locks. Bring all needles into working position and check that the needles are straight, as crashing needles will distort them.

Needlebed Next, brush the beds. If the area isn't brushed, all the fluff from the garment (including swatches) will go down into the springs and they'll eventually clog up so brush this area thoroughly.

Rails The rails on which the locks run get filthy dirty with used-up oil and for this purpose, I've used Carex face wipes. The back bed bottom rail is solid so wipe it. The top back rail is grey in colour, a different shape from the bottom one and the lock runs along this rail. Wipe it and run an oily rag along and back, several times, as it will be amazingly dirty. To clean the top rail, use a dirt-free brush and run it along the groove to remove fluff. Do this several times, then I use the face wipes again. Run an oily rag over it again, so that both sides get cleaned and oiled. If the face wipe is dirty, your machine is still dirty. Remember that when the machine was new, it wasn't dirty so see how clean you can get it.

Front bed This has oblong slits in it and it's through these slits that the console controls the pushers, so this rail must be clean. If it's even slightly clogged up with fluff or excess dirt, you'll get miss-patterning because the console can't do its work properly.

For a spotless front bed bottom rail, use a clean brush to sweep across the rail lightly. Do this until all traces of fluff and black grease are completely removed. Wipe the rail on both sides with a lightly oiled rag and do this several times across and back again.

Remember that when the machine was new it wasn't dirty, so see how clean you can get it Clean front top rail as the top back bed.

Needles Lightly oil butts of needles by smoothing over with an oily rag.
Pushers Oil pushers by smoothing over area above pushers with oily rag. Remember there's a back bed as well and that needs the same treatment. Next time, I'll continue to look at all the essential maintenance we need to do to look after our beloved Passap machines.

NECK TO NECK

Joyce has sent us instructions for knitting a scarf on her E6000, but it's also suitable for the Duo 80. One cone of fine mohair was sufficient for one long and one short scarf.

From Alice Beware, when using mohair, because it will shed a great deal of fluff.

Length The scarf is 185 cm long.

Technique The console was not used.

To knit Manually set up front and back bed Ns for double bed tuck stitch 154 (see Page 149 in manual) over 140 front bed Ns. Add one extra needle at each end of back bed. This gives a good edge. Cast on over 140 front bed »

Ns. Locks on N/N, SS 3/3, K 1 row. Change to CX/CX, SS 4/4, K 2 rows. Change to N/N, SS 5/5, K 1 row. Put pusher under every N in work on both beds. Change to AX< (left arrow key) on back bed and KX on front bed. Using SS 5/5 and knit about 10 rows. Add claw weight at each edge, moving up fairly frequently. Knit to estimated length required and cast off loosely, hooking up to prevent pulling in. Give knitting a lengthwise pull and leave to rest overnight.

Fringe Either fringe by hand or knit a double fringe as follows. On back bed have 3 Ns in WP, 29 Ns in NWP, 3 Ns in WP, 29 Ns in NWP and 3 Ns in WP. Do the same on the front bed and check Ns don't crash. Knit enough for two widths of scarf plus about 5 cm, 2 in. Take off on a few rows of waste yarn. Attach one side of knitted fringe across one end of scarf. Fold other side to enclose end of scarf and sew or link. Finish off open ends of edge of fringe stitches to prevent unravelling. Cut off central stabilising stitches of fringe to release fringe strands. Complete other end of scarf.

the method will be easier to follow.

From Alice Although easy to do, it's time consuming.

Tensions The sample was tried out for a summer jacket in 2-ply cotton with Tech 211, 4-colour Jacquard and tuck backing.

Preparation Knit to position of top of pocket and always end with last colour you use so, when you start again, you begin with Colour 1. Make note of RC reading, switch off console. Transfer front pocket stitches to their opposite numbers on back bed (or vice versa) and knit through all pocket stitches with a double end of main colour. Take off on a needle bar. For more than 20 needles use needle bar in centre, take others off at each end using double-eyed bodkin threaded with one long strand of thick shiny ravel cord.

Push empty needles up, latches open. From right, make tight zigzag across all pocket opening needles with one end of main colour. Knit back to right manually, making the stitches a normal size. Pull ends of main colour and ends of ravel cord through double-eyed bodkin, then drop down between the beds or pull them down with yellow latch tool. Hang weight in loop formed by knot. Check all back pushers are correctly aligned. Set all front bed pushers to lower working position and switch on console. Go through all the movements for getting back to where you left off and then continue knitting to end of garment.

Knitting pocket Switch off console and return front pocket stitches from needle bar to front bed. Pick up same number of stitches on back bed opposite. The line will be easy to see because that's where you made your zigzag and knitted one line in main colour manually. Adjust racking handle so end needle on back bed is as close to end needle on front as you can get it. Set dials to CX/CX, have all back bed pushers up and no front bed pushers. Use black strippers and main colour only. As this is tubular knitting, it will take twice as long to reach the desired length. Cast off when you reach end. Push pocket down behind front.

Pocket border To prevent sagging make a border for top of pocket and it should be at least two front bed stitches wider than the pocket at each end. For example, if pocket is 30 needles wide on front bed, border will be at least 34 needles wide. Take off on ravel cord and graft to top of pocket front. It will come well above top of pocket opening and prevent it being seen. To prevent sagging, sew a double row of stitching at each end.

BLACK IS BLACK

Chris writes to pass on the following suggestion.

Dear Alice I've Form 6 and it's everything it's supposed to be - simple and straight forward. I decided that with not being able to use the default black (Col 0) in the patterns, rather than have to change the black if I was going to use the pattern, I'd go through all the patterns in Creation 6 (Form 6 now) and change the black to Colour 16 - another black. Not all of the patterns had black in them, but when they did, I just swapped the black and saved the pattern again in the same name. Colour 16 can be found by clicking the cursor twice on the colour icon (left mouse button) and it's the first colour in that row. I left it right there and didn't have to keep switching around.

If you want to know whether you've the default black in your pattern, just put the cursor on the black part. If the cursor is then the same colour as the screen, you are covering the default black. If it changes to pink, the black is Colour 16. It may change to a sludgy green, brown or even a different colour and these are all different blacks within the C6 colour palette. They all look the same, but to the computer they're all different colours because they're all in different positions in the palette. Presumably they're put all over the place to make it easier to insert what is, after all, a much used colour when you are half a dozen clicks or so into your colours. It's very useful!

From Alice This is old news to those who've been knitting on the E6000 for a long time, but may help the newbies.

UPGRADE

Trudy wrote to tell us that the console of her fairly old E6000 played up and gave all sorts of error messages, so she upgraded to 32K and can now transfer patterns from DesignaKnit. It's so much easier to try out a new pattern, without the bother and expense of filling in reader sheets. Her machine accepts reader sheets without any trouble, but it's still fiddly to fix little red knobs. They always seem to fall down onto her patterned carpet and don't want to be found. She's now using the new version of DesignaKnit and it's so easy to use - it really seems foolproof.

BE WARNED

When Olive Jinkings did her three day course at Bogod in London, she was warned never to leave the locks on the left of the bed for any length of time, as this could damage the cable. Once, she was called to the phone and forgot this warning. She returned 20 minutes later to find her program had gone and the screen reverted to German. She switched off then on again, the screen returned to English but the knitting program had gone. Luckily, there was no permanent damage.

PLEASE HELP

Here are a couple of cries for help from a Duo knitter, but they apply equally to those using the E6000.

Question I'm knitting a pattern with five needles in NWP, so how on earth do I decrease?

Answer Move the end stitch in, one needle and K 2 rows. Repeat until you can move the end stitch onto the needle which already has a stitch on it, thereby decreasing one stitch.

Question When I reach the top of a rib skirt, how do I knit the waistband?

Answer Go into stocking stitch and use black strippers. Lower the stitch size and you'll probably need to decrease the number of Ns as well. ■

Abbreviations

These are our standard abbreviations.

alt = alternate(ly); beg = beginning; ch = chain; cm = centimetres; cont = continue(ing); dc = double crochet; dec = decrease(ing); foll = following; g = grams; HP = holding position; in = inch(es); inc = increase(ing); K = knit; mm = millimetres; MT = main tension; MT-1, MT-2, MT-3 = one, two, three full sizes tighter than main tension; MT+1, MT+2, MT+3 = one, two, three full sizes looser than main tension; MY = main yarn; N(s) = needle(s); NWP = non working position; P = purl; patt = pattern; RC = row counter; rem = remain(ing); rep = repeat; ss = stitch size; st(s) = stitch(es); st st = stocking stitch; tog = together; UWP = upper working position; WP = working position; WY = waste yarn.

Machine conversion

Here's the formula to convert any of our patterns. First we need a pattern to convert, so let's suppose you'd like to knit Naomi, Anne Baker's chunky pattern on Page 27 of the October issue. You don't have a chunky model and want to use a tuck stitch pattern on your standard gauge machine. It's essential to knit a tension square in the yarn and stitch pattern you want to use and measure it carefully over 10 cm. Let's suppose your 4-ply tuck stitch pattern tension is 24 sts and 60 rows to 10 cm. The tension of Anne's pattern (the one you want to convert) is 14 sts and 32 rows to 10 cm. Take the number of sts to 10 cm in your tension square (24) and divide by the pattern stitch tension (14). $24 \div 14 = 1.71$. Now multiply this number (1.71) by the number of sts given in the pattern. Let's assume you're knitting the first size and Anne says 'Push 72 Ns at centre of machine to WP' so $72 \times 1.71 = 123.12$. Add an extra stitch for making up, so round it up to 124 and this is the number you cast on. As a double check $124 \div 2.4$ (your stitch tension) = 51.66 cm and the diagram says measurement A is 51.25 cm. Knit the welt you'd like then do the same thing with the rows. Take the number of rows to 10 cm in your tension square (60) and divide by the pattern row tension (32). $60 \div 32 = 1.87$. Now multiply this number (1.87) by the number of rows given in the pattern. Anne's pattern says 'K 120 rows' so $120 \times 1.87 = 224.40$. Round it up or down as you think fit. As a double check, $226 \div 6 = 37.66$ and the measurement diagram says 37.5. You'll need to make some common-sense decisions about shaping, but that's the nuts and bolts of converting a pattern.

Mock rib instructions

Used for welts, cuffs, neckbands and other edges on single bed machines without a ribber. Push the number of main bed needles given in pattern to working position. Push every alternate needle back to non-working position for a 1x1 rib or every third needle back to non-working position for a 2x1 rib. It may be necessary to reduce this number by one needle at one or both edges to keep the rib even. (Increase the stitches after the mock rib has been worked to give the same number as the pattern.) Using main tension and waste yarn, cast on and knit a few rows ending with carriage at left. Set row counter at 000. Using at least two full sizes tighter than main tension, knit the number of rows given in pattern for rib. Using three full sizes looser than this tension, knit one row. (This loose row gives a neat fold line.) Return to two full sizes tighter than main tension and knit the same number of rows as before. Push empty needles from non-working to working position and make a hem by placing loops of first row worked in main yarn evenly along the row. Make sure that each empty needle holds a loop to prevent a row of holes across the work. Unravel waste yarn when work has been removed from machine. After garment has been blocked to size, insert a metal welt bar or thin, clean piece of wood through the hem and pull firmly downwards to draw the stitches of mock rib closer together. Set the stitches by steaming lightly on the wrong side, if pressing instructions permit.

Quick cast-on

This method can be used not only for speed but also when the edges are either hidden or to be gathered by pulling up yarn end. With carriage at right, push alt Ns to WP. Use tension dial setting and either MY or WY as given in pattern. K 1 row. Carefully hook on the cast-on comb. Push remaining alt Ns to WP and K 1 row. The carriage is back at right. Cont as given in pattern instructions. When knitting is removed from machine, pull yarn end at cast-on edge to gather up sts or, for a straight edge, pull yarn end to remove any slack and fasten off. Your manual will describe this method of casting on although it may be called by a different name and may not use a cast-on comb. ■
